

I run a small heating & a/c supply house. It would be a burden for our company to comply with this regulation. Many of my customers send their orders to me by email. My vendors send me notices of specials they are offering or product updates. I want to continue to receive these communications by fax without having to get a signed form from each one.